

Getting started with Investors in People

Investors in People - Improving Business Performance

The Getting started with Investors in People Workshop is for people or organisations who are thinking about using the international Investors in People Standard. It will provide you with

- the foundation knowledge of how Investors in People works and
- why 25,000 organisations use the standard as their framework of choice to improve organisational performance and
- insights into the critical impact that people strategies have on organisational performance and
- how adoption of the Investors in People standard might support your organisational development strategy.

“Confirmation and extension of my view that Investors in People is a unique strategy for developing businesses through their people.”
Training and Development Manager, QTM

“It gave me the opportunity to gain a more in-depth understanding of the standard and how it could work in my organisation.”
Human Resources Manager, Estee Lauder

On completion of the Workshop you will be able to:

- Identify key issues surrounding people development within your organisation and how this links to the criteria of the Investors in People Standard to improve performance.
- Influence current and future people strategies effectively by reference to an international quality standard
- Develop a clear and concise Active Plan to address areas for development in your own organisation.
- Nominate your business to be recognised as “Working with Investors in People” by submitting your Active Plan for our review and feedback.

“IIP encourages an organisation to look more holistically at both the non-financial and the financial aspects of business performance.”
National Account Manager, Mission Australia

“As an organisational development practitioner, it doesn't get much better than this.”
OD Manager, Cardinia Shire Council
